

MEDIA ALERT:

Microsoft's latest update to cloud-based Docs.com includes tools and resources from Advancement Via Individual Determination (AVID) a nonprofit, proven college-readiness system that closes the student achievement gap.

Headline: AVID provides real-world instructional strategies for classroom teachers that impact their students. Now, through Docs.com, AVID is making it easier for all educators to access these resources in their classrooms.

What: Broad access to AVID's eBinder using OneNote will be available through Docs.com on June 24th.

Who: Microsoft recently launched Docs.com for Education, and at the International Society for Technology in Education (ISTE) 2016 Conference & Expo, will debut the ISTE Collection to provide educators across the globe access to key digital resources to implement in the classroom. AVID, as an inaugural collaborator, will leverage this cloud-based tool to expand awareness and encourage use of the AVID eBinder OneNote Starter Kit in all school districts.

Why: This provides worldwide, cloud-based access to a core AVID instructional strategy for all educators, including those who are contracted with and not currently AVID identified school districts.

Who Should Attend: Anyone interested in seeing the specifics being included in this launch should visit the ISTE 2016 Conference & Expo (see details below).

When: ISTE 2016 is scheduled June 26-29, 2016, in Denver, Colorado.

Where: See these resources at ISTE 2016 in the Microsoft Booth, # 2100 at the Colorado Convention Center in Denver, Colorado.
